

Why Choose Dentox?

If you're a medical or dental practitioner looking for a top-of-the-line Botox, dermal filler and facial rejuvenation training program, turn to us. Malpractice insurance companies, healthcare boards and others have depended on us for two decades to help them develop standards of practice for injectable facial aesthetics and therapeutics, and you can depend on us too.

Our educational programs focus on treating unique individuals and their unique anatomies – rather than being built on generic templates that assume everyone is the same. Our training programs offer you proven clinical protocols that you can immediately integrate into your practice.

Our innovative system created by Dr. Howard Katz has made it possible for healthcare professionals around the globe to integrate botulinum toxins including Botox, Dysport and Xeomin as well as related facial rejuvenation processes, neuromodulators and fillers into their practices.

We are confident that our unique training methodology and support when you are back in the office make it possible for you to quickly and successfully integrate facial rejuvenation into your treatment modalities:

We Can Offer You:

HIGH-CALIBER EDUCATION

- Healthcare boards around the nation have come to Dentox for decades for advice and consultation, demonstrating that we maintain the highest standards of proficiency and clinical competency.
- Dr. Katz has been a trusted presenter of the Dentox hands-on and lecture program at healthcare conventions and universities in the United States, the United Kingdom, Israel, South Africa, Portugal, Spain and Saudi Arabia.
- Separate, extensive training programs are available specifically for involving and engaging the entire medical and dental clinic team.

- Real life anatomy-based education is available to all attendees and their patients as models at every program. We believe in spending a significant amount of time reviewing a variety of live patients as attendees are taught how to dictate muscle function and recognize ideal injection sites on live models.
- Predictable and desired results are not always achievable. Dentox covers treatment and correction of all side effects.

- Don't want to travel? Dentox offers interactive online education, including recorded lectures and videos to review at your leisure.
- Want to review the program after completion? You will receive links to review the entire programs as well as all of the presentation notes and videos.

INTERNATIONALLY ACCLAIMED EDUCATORS

Our key faculty member is Dr. Howard Katz, the dentist who is named on patents for botulinum toxin type A, anesthetic reversal and facial rejuvenation products.

Our programs are recognized by AGD PACE.

CE RECOGNITION BY REGULATORY BODIES

We are strong believers in providing you with all of the tools necessary to ensure you succeed when back in practice. That's why we offer continued online and text support for you as you are confronted with situations that require a second opinion, someone to consult with or someone to look over your shoulder.
